

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A top or blind to attach to an ATV, to protect a user from the weather or inclement conditions. This top may also be used as a stand-alone shelter or hunting blind. Made of nylon, which may be camouflage-colored, it includes a case with two flexible rods that form an arch. There are several cross rods imbedded in the cover. The cross rods, cover, side curtains and flexible rods are normally contained in the case. The case is releasably attached to an ATV and when the flexible rods are assembled, they can be fixed to the front of the ATV forming the arch to which the side curtains are releasably attached.
